DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosures filed on 4/14/04, 6/17/04, 7/26/04, 7/30/04 and 1/21/05 have been acknowledged, considerations of the information disclosures have been postponed for failing to comply with requirements under 37CFR 1.56(a)(2) and 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3)(i), which require applicants to carefully examine the closest information over which individuals associated with the filing or prosecution of a patent application believe any pending claim patentably defines, to make sure that any material information contained therein is disclosed to the Office. It is also requires that any information disclosure statement under 1.97 shall include a concise explanation of the relevance as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent, publication, or other information listed that is not in the English language. Furthermore judging the large amount of references cited in the application, it is incomprehensible that each of them was deemed closely related to pending claimed invention, therefore in response to this office action, applicant is advised to further identify a reasonable numbers of the cited references for the examiner's further considerations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 6, 14, and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Knudson (US 3,945,444).

Knudson teaches casing drilling using split bit, which comprises all of the claimed structure including an outer tubular means 16 which can be comprised of standard well casings (col. 2, lines 37-45), a drill assembly 48 which as selectively connected at the lower end of drill string (see Fig. 1). The drill assembly can be withdrawn by standard wireline operation leaving the outer tubular means or casing in the wellbore for well completion (Col. 2, lines 40-45, and col. 7, lines 7+). The method of placing physically alterable bonding material in the annulus and establishing hydrostatic pressure in the wellbore for allowing the bonding material to alter under hydrostatic pressure is anticipated by col. 2, lines 37-45, where the casing is to be remained in the wellbore for well completion operation, which is known to have cement slurry pumped downhole through the tubular out to the annulus between the casing and the wellbore and cured under hydrostatic pressure, since hydrostatic pressure generated by the fluid column is a natural phenomenon. The methods of stabilizing the drilling string and centralizing the casing portion fail to render patentable distinction over Knudson, since such are of common drilling operational practice which are known to one of the ordinary skill in the art.
